STRONGER THAN EVER

The Demand That Calls for "Lawrence in Congress in Spite of Lawrence."

CITY COMMITTEE TAKES ACTION

Strongly Endorses the Senator for Congress and Advises the Selection of Lawrence Delegates.

Expressions from Other Parts of the First District.

The North Adams Republican city committee held a special meeting Tuesday evening, and threw the Lawrence flag to the breeze, and they did it with a will and enthusiasm. That there might be no uncertainty as to their earnestness in the matter of Mr. Lawrence's candidacy, they voted a strong expression of their sentiment and advised the selection of Lawrence delegates to the congressional convention. This settles the position of North Adams Republicans. They have sounded the key note and await the full Berkshire chorus, and middle and southern Berkshires have said that they waited such action. The following expression was unanimously adopted by the Republican committee.

NORTH ADAMS, Mass., Sept. 7, 1897.—"In view of the fact that Hon. George P. Lawrence of this city has expressed a determination not to be a candidate for congress to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Congressman A. B. Wright, we, as members of the North Adams Republican city committee, wish to call the attention of the public to the unanimous sentiments of the Republican voters, not only of North Adams, but of Berkshire, and of the preference of many voters of other parts of the first Massachusetts congressional district. As friends and fellow town men of Mr. Lawrence we know him to be eminently fitted to be the representative of this district, faithfully, well and ably in congress. As Republicans, we recognize in him elements of particular strength and popularity as a candidate for the office before the people. His correct character, his high honor, his proved ability recommend him to all men. We believe it is the right of the people to draft such a man, particularly in view of the hours they shall enjoy and the offices they shall fill, and therefore we can not accord with the expressed wish of Mr. Lawrence that he be not considered a candidate for congress. On the other hand, we urge upon him a consideration of the public interests and the welfare of the voters of this congressional district. And, believing that we voice the unanimous sentiment of the Republican voters of this city (as well as many of Mr. Lawrence's friends outside his own party), we would urge that every influence be brought to bear to make Mr. Lawrence the Republican nominee for congress and would recommend that the Republicans of this city at their caucuses choose delegates to the congressional convention with this end in view. (Signed)

REPUBLICAN CITY COMMITTEE.

This action of the Republican city committee is enthusiastically endorsed by all the Republicans of the city today. This frank and open expression of Republican sentiment here is considered only a just and true reflection of the general feeling, and "Lawrence for congress in spite of Lawrence" is now the slogan of Berkshire Republicans.

Pittsfield is not a whit behind North Adams in its kindly interest in Mr. Lawrence's congressional prospects. The shire city is a unit for him. The Eagle of that place is as pronounced for the senator as is THE TRANSCRIPT. So too is the entire Republican press of the county. The Eagle reports Mr. Whittlesey as saying that he had not read Mr. Lawrence's letter and was not acquainted with the causes that led to Mr. Lawrence's statement but that he thought Mr. Lawrence was not called upon to withdraw from the field as a candidate for congress. Mr. Lawrence was Berkshire's candidate and Berkshire ought to have the right to choose her own man regardless of any feelings of a personal nature that there may be between Mr. Lawrence and Mr. Malone. When asked in regard to the mention that had been made in the papers of his own name in connection with the nomination for congress, Mr. Whittlesey said that there was nothing to say on that point. Mr. Lawrence was his choice, and the choice of the whole county and Mr. Lawrence should be induced to allow himself to be nominated. Mr. Lawrence owed it to the county which has stood right loyally behind him in numerous ways.

A. S. Knell of Westfield when interviewed on his views of the situation in the First congressional district contest by a Springfield Republican reporter talked freely, but thought that the matter was in such a state now that it was impossible to tell definitely what would happen. The thing which made it difficult to make any calculations was the attitude of George P. Lawrence and the call of the voters for him.

The first congressional is a Berkshire district, being made up of that whole county, with fragments of Hampden, Hampshire and Franklin. It has the advantage, too, of a fine political system, managed by sharp and shrewd political leaders. I have been in politics for 10 years, but I have never seen a contest between Berkshire and Hampshire in which Hampden was successful, with the exception of the choice of Charles L. Gardner for district attorney."

The Boston Herald today announces in double head lines in the most conspicuous place in its columns "Lawrence for congress. People of Berkshire want him and will insist on his nomination. Refuse to be governed by his act of declination. They believe him eminently fitted for the office and hope he will best the wishes of his constituents. Malone not strengthened by the judge's withdrawal. Heartily endorsement by North Adams Republican committee."

It is clearly apparent that Senator Lawrence, if forced to be a candidate by popular demand, yet has the pole in the congressional race and will be an easy winner.

WAS FOUND DEAD

Walter Benjamin Dies Suddenly in Dennis Beal's Orchard.

WENT OUT TO PICK FRUIT

Did Not Return in Due Time and a Search Was Made for Him.

Medical Examiner Brown Says Death Was Due to Hemorrhage.

Walter Benjamin, aged 54 years, was found dead this morning in Maurice Beal's orchard near the old Whipple kilns about a mile from this city.

He was an employee of Mr. Beal and did chores about the farm. This morning when he finished his usual duties, about 8 o'clock, he started for the orchard to pick some fruit. He did not return in the course of a couple of hours and Mr. Beal went to the orchard and found him dead.

The police were at once notified and Sheriff Prink with Officer Whipple and Medical Examiner Brown went to the place. After examination Dr. Brown pronounced death due to hemorrhage.

The body was taken to the undertaking rooms of Simmons & Carpenter and the funeral will probably be held Thursday afternoon. Mr. Benjamin had resided in this city for a number of years. He was married twice. His first wife and children are dead. He did not live with his second wife.

ASSEMBLY CLUB RECEPTION.

Many People From This City Attend at Forest Park in Adams.

The Assembly club of Adams, which have held a number of pleasant dances at Forest park in Adams, gave a closing reception at the park Tuesday evening. The pavilion was brightly illuminated with Japanese lanterns and the walls were decorated with flags and evergreens.

The coziness of the evening made dancing most enjoyable and the scene with the dancers, the men in full dress and the ladies attired in elegant gowns was most attractive. About 200 were present, 70 being from this city and Williamstown.

Palmer's orchestra furnished music and John Hammond of Adams was caterer. The patronesses were Mrs. A. H. Lowe of Pittsfield, Mrs. W. S. Jenks, Mrs. W. B. Plunkett, Mrs. C. T. Plunkett, Mrs. A. B. Mole and Mrs. A. B. Daniels all of Adams.

"For Liberty and Love."

The production of "For Liberty and Love" at Columbia opera house Tuesday evening by Miss Lillian Lewis and her excellent company was very strong and moritorious. The play is not great from an artistic standpoint, but is full of thrilling surprises, strongly appealing to sentiment. It has to do with Cuba, that storm tossed island, and its story is of the conflict raging there. The Cuban idol, Maceo, is presented in a noble action and the audience is allowed to hear the report of the musketry in the foul ambuscade by which Maceo was assassinated. Dr. Zerbucha, the Judas of Cuba appears, and with Mori, the villain of the love affair, makes a most impressive stage picture. Their lives near the vengeance of the people and they are forever kept moving on. Soldier bayonets keep them from resting. They are veritable tigres, braw-banded and outcast.

The character of Mario Navana, the Spanish officer, who renounced the mother country because of her mode of warfare and became a loyal, but sorely suspected supporter of Cuba's cause, was finely assumed. It smacked agreeably of the careless, fearless romanticism of D'Artagnan, and Leonidas made it quite a ideal. The character of Pedro Velasco, a faithful servant, who related a story of massacre in his master's home was sustained admirably and with unusual fire. Emmet Whitney made the Major Cassanova a very dignified person.

The acting of Miss Lewis was at times supremely intense. The carrying of her part is a feat in physical endurance that is surprising, but her fine art shows clearly in it all. Almost every act demands the same intensity of acting. The acting deserved much more support from the public than it received.

Hospital Exercises.

The graduating exercises of the hospital training school for nurses occurred this afternoon on the hospital grounds, and a complete report will be given in tomorrow's TRANSCRIPT.

Miss Jessie Fenton entertained a number of friends at whilst last evening at her home, 6 Bracewell avenue. The first prize was given to Mr. Stewart, second to Miss Ethel Sibley, and the consolation prize to Miss Jennie Thatcher. Refreshments were served and all had a very enjoyable time.

WILDER'S WILL.

IT IS UNDER CONTROL.

Yellow Fever is Held in Check and Southern Cities Now Feel Easier.

New Orleans, Sept. 8.—The Louisiana board of health is today in full control of the yellow fever situation. With perfect arrangements made for the prompt report of either yellow fever or suspicious cases, up to 10 o'clock today there had not been a single case reported to the board.

The authorities frankly declare that there will be no more sickness of virulent type unless imported. In spite of the New Orleans clean bill of health, yet every town in Louisiana and Mississippi continued to declare quarantine against people from this city.

In this city, however, confidence has entirely returned. It is confidently believed that immunity from yellow jack for eight or ten days will move Mobile and the Mississippi and the Louisiana towns to tear down their barriers.

GENERAL LEE ARRIVES.

He Would Rather Not Talk on Cuban Affairs.

New York, Sept. 8.—Consul General Fitzhugh Lee, accompanied by his son, Fitzhugh, Jr., arrived here from Havana on board the Sergurante this morning. The general said that he had been suffering from biliousness for some time past, but he felt much better after the sea trip. He looked to be in perfect health. When asked whether he would return to Cuba or not, he shook his head and said "I cannot answer that. I would rather not talk on Cuban affairs until I make my report in Washington." In speaking of the case of Evangelina Cossio Cisneros, the general said: "The young woman is now confined in Casa Recohida. She has never been tried and I do not think that it was ever intended that she should be banished.

COL. F. S. RICHARDSON FOR REP- RESENTATIVE.

The name of Col. Frank S. Richardson of this city will be presented to the Republican representative convention of this district for nomination as one of the two candidates for the legislature. Mr. Richardson is in that fortunate position that has required no campaigning or political work on his part to make him a favorite for the office for which he will be a candidate. Already the nomination is conceded to him, and it is with a real sense of gratification and congratulation that the Republicans of this representative district find such a candidate in the field willing to serve the public at Boston.

Col. Richardson needs no mandatory setting out in these columns. His life and business career are an open book to the people of this city. He represents the best in the community. He is every inch a gentleman, a correct and able business man with a remarkable record of business success, courteous and obliging beyond the ordinary degree, is thoroughly conversant with public affairs and knows the ways of public men and official life. Having always been a resident of North Adams, he knows its needs and will be most attentive to its interests. He is fitted to represent North Adams in all that the word implies,—as a gentleman, a business man, as a legislator of good judgment and high intelligence. We venture to say that the next Massachusetts legislature will not contain a more up-to-date and capable representative of his constituents than Col. F. S. Richardson of North Adams.

It is a pleasure to find men of Mr. Richardson's stamp and worth in position and willing to serve in the state legislature. He is the kind of man needed in Boston to represent intelligently and conservatively the people of the commonwealth. The Republicans of this city will undoubtedly accord him a unanimous nomination and at the polls, when he for the first time asks the indorsement of the voters of his city, will give him a handsome vote.

REMARKABLE CALL FOR GEORGE P. LAWRENCE.

There is a remarkable call for Senator George P. Lawrence to become the Republican nominee for congress. The regret expressed because of his disqualification to become a candidate is as sincere as it is general. The Republican city committee of North Adams has taken the first formal action to proceed with the work of nominating Mr. Lawrence, and to show how general will be the support of this action we quote here from the press of the state, showing regret because of the possibility of Senator Lawrence's not becoming the congressional nominee.

The Springfield Sunday Republican said:

Few political matters have so stirred Berkshire as the letter of Senator Lawrence, but the letter of universal regret and the subject was discussed in clubs and other circles. Prominent Republicans all over the county have telegraphed and telephoned to other Republicans in Pittsfield and vicinity, and also to Senator Lawrence, in Boston, and to the committee to come to the effect that Senator Lawrence must consent to allow his friends to secure his nomination, as an expression of their confidence in him and their desire for him to represent the district in Congress. The letter did not accept my delegation, and that he owes it to them to do so. The letter did not accept my delegation, and that he owes it to all the people of the district to allow the use of his name in the convention by his friends. With such a record as he has made, they say, it is demanded that he serve the chieflet in Congress. The people are anxious to come to a "landslide" in his favor. Many democrats also expressed themselves freely today in the same great feeling over his letter and the hope of his eventual acceptance. The movement behind Senator Lawrence is strong, and it is to be expected that he will be nominated.

On the other hand, it is that same spirit which has more than ever made the determination of his friends to insist that he not absolutely withdraw from the canvass. He was taken last evening that a conference ought to be had with him to determine his course of action. The Boston Herald of Tuesday said editorially:

When a president of the senate was to be chosen, Senator Malone, who is an active and efficient political worker, had given important aid to Senator Lawrence in gaining him support for that place. At the same time Senator Malone had made it understood that Senator Lawrence was to be succeeded Congressmen Wright as the member of congress from the first district. Senator Lawrence had acquiesced in this so far as to give no intimation that he would be a rival for the place. It suddenly became evident when Senator Malone, who had been a friend of Senator Lawrence, felt bound both in honor and gratitude not to oppose his colleagues. This is the case as between individuals, but the public interest demands such selection in importance. The public interest is to place the ablest man in the place. There seems to be a general opinion that Mr. Lawrence is better adapted to do the state and the nation service in this point of view, and it looks very much as if he would be the man to be appointed to take this step, but it is nothing compared with the pressure being used to make him reconsider his recent determination. Two pretty weddings occurred at St. Thomas church this morning. The first was at 8 o'clock, when Fred Sime and Miss Anna Neary were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. Coyne. About 100 friends and relatives were present. The bride was attired in green silk, trimmed with white fluting and lace, and wore a hat trimmed with cream colored chiffon. Her sister, Miss Bridget, was bridesmaid, and wore a dress of green novelty goods and a hat of white chiffon. William Sime, brother of the groom, was the best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home on the east road. Both have the congratulations of a host of friends, and were the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

The second wedding was that of James Murray and Miss Mary Kearns and occurred at 9 o'clock. The ceremony was performed in the presence of about 200 friends by Rev. Fr. McGrath. The bride was a white organza gown, trimmed with lace and ribbon. Her chapeau was of white chiffon and lace. Miss Margaret, her sister, was bridesmaid, and she wore cream colored cashmere, trimmed with ribbon. Her hat was of white chiffon. Edward Murray, the groom's brother, was best man. After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home on Summer street, and one room was filled with handsome and useful presents, among which was a silver tea service, the gift of friends from the L. L. Brown Paper company's mill, where the bride had worked. The couple are highly esteemed and have many wishes for future success and happiness. They will reside in a newly-furnished tenement on Kearns' avenue.

A Narrow Escape.

Mrs. John Lawson of Renfrew had a narrow escape from serious, if not fatal, injury Monday afternoon. She and her husband, with Mr. and Mrs. Herman Houghton of Summer street, were returning from Savoy, where they had been berry picking. They were riding in a two-seated wagon and Mr. Lawson was driving. In going down the mountain the wagon was frightened by the breaking of the dash board and he began to run. Mr. Lawson fainted and fell out of the wagon, sustaining a scalp wound and a bad cut on the upper lip. His nose was broken and she was otherwise badly bruised. The two men got hold of the reins and pulled the horse into a ditch, where he stopped. The other members of the party were not hurt. Dr. Riley attended the injured lady and was assisted by Dr. Donnelly.

Large Attendance.

The opening of the fall term of school was Tuesday morning and the attendance was undoubtedly the largest yet recorded. There were 1,796 pupils enrolled and the result is that some of the schools are somewhat crowded. At the high school there are 125 scholars, at Liberty street 300, at street 130, Commercial street 415, Hoosac 2-3, Grove St., Zylonite 92, East Renfrew 23 and at the Bowen district 25. There is an increase of about 100. The student is hard at work and hope to have all accommodated and everything in good running order in the shortest time possible.

James Hanley.

James Hanley, aged 65 years, died at his home on Columbia street about 6 o'clock last evening. He had been in poor health for some time but his last sickness lasted about four weeks. Mr. Hanley was born in the County Mayo, Ireland, and had resided in the town about 12 years. He was always of a pleasant and jovial disposition and a kind neighbor and friend. He leaves two sons, Patrick and Michael, and daughter, Miss Barbara. The funeral will occur from St. Thomas church Thursday morning and the interment will be in the Belgrave cemetery.

Bicyclist's Accident.

John Armstrong, while riding his bicyclette at the quarter mile trials at Forest park Monday afternoon, met with a bad accident. He was riding at a brisk gait, when he lost a pant's guard and his pants caught in the chain, and he was thrown heavily to the ground. He sustained a fracture of the bones of his left leg. Dr. H. B. Holmes attended.

Made a Good Record.

David Murphy has returned from Cana Johane, N. Y., where he has been playing the piano for the past few months. The tram has now disbanded and Mr. Murphy left the place having made a record of which he may well be proud. He is one of our coming star players.
